STROKE and NEUROCRITICAL CARE CONFERENCE

Tuesday,
November 19, 2019
7:30 a.m. - 3:45 p.m.

NewYork-Presbyterian Queens

Theresa and Eugene M. Lang Center for Research and Education • 56-45 Main Street, Flushing, NY

Statement of Need

Stroke is a devastating event that can lead to serious long-term disability. Every year, more than 795,000 people in the United States experience a stroke. About 610,000 of these are first or new strokes. Stroke risk increases with age, but strokes can—and do—occur at any age. This 5th Annual Stroke and Neurocritical Care Conference will provide physicians and health care providers with evidence-based updates on the latest stroke assessment and therapeutic approaches to optimize successful patient outcomes.

Target Audience

Primary care physicians, neurologists, neurosurgeons, ER physicians, residents, fellows, interns, medical students, physician assistants, nurse practitioners, registered nurses, EMT's and others involved in the care of stroke patients.

Educational Objectives

It is intended that this NYP Queens CME activity will lead to improved patient care. At the conclusion of this symposium, the participant will be able to:

- Specify current management of TIA and minor stroke.
- Identify signs and symptoms of posterior circulation stroke.
- Discuss uncommon causes of stroke.
- Discuss current evidence-based concepts in the diagnosis and treatment of hemorrhagic and ischemic stroke.
- Describe the efficacy of mechanical thrombectomy for acute ischemic stroke.
- Review the assessment and treatment of idiopathic intracranial hypertension and venous stenosis.
- Discuss the role of patent foramen ovale (PFO) as a possible important factor in cryptogenic stroke in young patients. Discuss efficacy, potential risks and issues associated with the Watchman device.
- Describe advances in pre-hospital stroke care and the benefits of mobile stroke units in treating ischemic stroke.
- Identify which patients require Neuro-ICU care.
- Review management of subarachnoid hemorrhage in the Neuro-ICU.
- Discuss assessment efficacy of EEG monitoring in the Neuro-ICU.
